

TESTIMONY GIVEN IN BOSWELL TRIAL DAMAGES ATTORNEY

Government Nears End of Its Case Against Gangsters

BULLETIN

East St. Louis, Ill., Jan. 24—(AP)—The government rested at noon today in the Williamson county liquor conspiracy trial and Pete Salmo, alleged bootlegger, defendant with four former officials of the county, was called as the first defense witness. He made a general denial of all charges against him.

The government concluded its testimony after having called six witnesses who accused Arlie O. Boswell, former State's Attorney of Williamson County, and the other defendants with having been in a conspiracy with the Charlie Birger gang of gunmen to violate the federal prohibition law.

Defense motions to exclude portions of the testimony and for a directed verdict were overruled by Judge Walter Lindley. Defense attorneys said they intended to use about ten witnesses and probably would conclude their evidence tomorrow.

Denied Brery Attempt
Salmo, formerly a restaurant proprietor in Colp, Ill., testified that he had been prosecuted by Boswell and sent to jail twice for liquor law violations and that he now is serving one of the terms. He denied having attempted to bribe Sheriff Oren Coleman during a raid on his restaurant and denied he had said that "it's all right with Boswell."

The government concluded its case by recalling John Ford, former Deputy Circuit Clerk of Williamson county, whose brother, Harlan, was slain in the Herrin election riot of April 1926. Yesterday Ford testified he had prepared a list of about 200 witnesses with a statement giving substance to what they knew of the riot, and had given it to Boswell. His testimony was that Boswell ignored it.

Judge Lindley ordered Ford to produce the list and he was accompanied by a court guard on a trip after it last night. He presented the list today, but it bore only a few notations beyond the names. Ford said, however, Boswell's assistant, orally of the matter, that he had told C. Ray Smith, one of the witnesses, that he had received a copy of the list and had passed it to the grand jury. He said he did not know what became of it.

East St. Louis, Ill., Jan. 24—(AP)—The government was near the close of its case today in the Williamson County, Ill., liquor conspiracy trial in which Arlie O. Boswell, former state's attorney, three other former officials and an alleged bootlegger are on trial.

The substance of the testimony of more than sixty witnesses called thus far was that Boswell and his alleged fellow conspirators were involved in the activities of the Charlie Birger gang and connived with the gangsters in a wholesale liquor traffic. Confessed bootleggers and gangsters, convicts and former officials have testified.

"Boswell's Treasurer"
Testimony that "Chink" Shaffer, a Birger gangster indicted with Boswell and now a fugitive, had made the assertion that he was "Boswell's treasurer" in the alleged collection of "protection money" from bootleggers, was given by Mrs. Eva Freese, formerly a friend of Shaffer.

She said that in 1926 she and Mrs. Shaffer accompanied Shaffer on numerous trips to roadhouses and that she asked him the purpose of the visits. "I'm Boswell's treasurer; I hand him $100 every other day," she said he replied.

Nolle Prossed Many Cases
S. E. Storme, Williamson County Clerk, testified that during the four years he was State's Attorney Boswell handled 454 liquor cases of which he nolle prossed 262. Of the others, he said, 145 defendants pleaded guilty, 33 received jury trials, 14 cases were quashed and several were pending when his term expired.

Lieut. Col. Robert W. Davis, of Carbondale, Ill., testified he traced a car found at the scene of the Herrin riots in April, 1926, in which the body of a man was found, and discovered it was owned by Charlie Birger. He said he gave Boswell this information, but that he did nothing about it. Six men were killed in the rioting and no indictments were returned.

J. T. Freese of Herrin testified that Shaffer told him two years ago that "I've a mind to use you as a bodyguard," adding that "I'm Boswell's collector and I have a mint of money on me at night."

Angelo Nava, lunch room proprietor at Colp, said he sold liquor and that George Bell, former Coroner of Williamson county, who is one of the defendants, attempted to collect $25 a month tribute from him.

Special deputy marshals continued to guard the federal building and court room, admitting few spectators.

Boswell Is Silent
During all sessions, Boswell has occupied a seat at the defense counsel and has been busily engaged taking notes and conferring frequently with his attorneys. He has made no statement except to sweepingly deny all charges. His attorneys have not announced whether he will be placed on the witness stand.

LIQUOR SUSPECT KILLED AND HIS PASSENGER HURT

Officers Fired On Car
It Went Into Ditch:
Woman Hurt

Stella, Mo., Jan. 24—(AP)—Fred Scott, a farmer suspected of being a liquor runner, was killed, and Mrs. Eva Jeffries, 18, of Stella, was injured last night when officers fired on Scott's automobile, which they had attempted to stop. The car went into a ditch and was wrecked. Another woman, who was injured, fled the scene before her identity was learned.

It was not determined whether Scott was killed in the crash, or by gunshot wounds in his body. The officers said several gallons of liquor were found in the automobile wreckage.

Beardstown's Flood System to be Tried

Beardstown, Ill., Jan. 24—(AP)—First practical tests of the newly completed $1,000,000 Beardstown flood protection system may be afforded this week end, with the predicted rise in the Illinois river to a stage of 16.5 by Saturday.

Citizens of the oft-flooded town are for once looking forward with pleasurable anticipation and a sense of security to the rise of the river level. Their fight for the sea wall and flood protection lasted five years and was won only after repeated floods that completely isolated the city.

When the river rises to the 16 foot mark on the gauge a small automatic pump in the newly constructed pumping plant will start operating. Flood gates in the sea wall would be closed should the river reach 17.5 feet, at which height the water from the river would begin to back into the sewers of the city.

With the new sea wall and flood protection, the city has a new sewer system. When the flood gates close, pumps in the sewers start, which it is promised will pump them all dry in twenty minutes.

Think Amonullah Is Marching In Force On Throne Usurper

Paris, Jan. 24—(AP)—Amanullah, Afghanistan's dethroned monarch, was believed in Afghan circles today to be marching on Kabul to deal with Habibullah Khan who usurped the throne from Amanullah's brother Inayatullah.

Amanullah recently began to rally his supporters at Kandahar, whence he had fled when his throne tottered. Reports that Nadir Khan, a relative of Amanullah, had been offered the throne as a compromise, were scouted.

WILL RATTLE THE BONES OF AIMEE'S "KIDNAPPING CASE"

All Documents Relating to Affair Ordered by Legislators

Los Angeles, Jan. 24—(AP)—An official revival of the so-called Aimee Semple McPherson kidnapping case was forecast here today after it became known that all documents relating to her mysterious disappearance nearly three years ago had been ordered brought before a legislative investigating committee.

The committee is under call to meet here Saturday to start an inquiry into the acceptance by Superior Judge Carlos S. Hardy of the Los Angeles superior court of a $250,000 check while she was facing charges of conspiring to defeat justice by telling a false story to a grand jury about her much discussed disappearance. The committee is to determine whether the filing of impeachment charges against Judge Hardy is warranted.

"Free Will Offering"
Judge Hardy, who was dropped from the membership of the American Bar Association because he accepted the money, has declared that it was a free will offering which he had proffered to her over a period of years. He declared that it had nothing to do with the conspiracy charge.

Mrs. McPherson has announced that she would appear before the legislative committee next Saturday. Judge Hardy, who also was subpoenaed, has said he would obey the summons.

GIRL CLERK IS KILLED BY CLUB OF HOLD-UP MAN

Clubbed to Death and Robbed Within Block
of Home in Chicago

Chicago, Jan. 24—(AP)—Miss Laura Buchholz, 26, a clerk, was clubbed to death and robbed a block from her home on West 123rd street as she was returning from work last night. Her slayer escaped. The only witness was Mrs. Grace Hanley, a school teacher, who said she heard a girl's scream and looked from her window in time to see "a man in a dark overcoat" dragging a woman's body across the street. Apparently frightened by the sound of the window Mrs. Hanley raised, the slayer released his hold on the body and fled.

Physicians found Miss Buchholz had been struck twice over the head. Her clothing was not torn and there were no other wounds. Her purse and hat were missing. Miss Buchholz's purse, money gone, was found this morning about 200 feet from the place where she was attacked. Her hat also was lying near the purse.

Ireland--England In Grip of "Flu"

Liverpool, England, Jan. 24—(AP)—Influenza and pneumonia have claimed numerous victims in this city and neighborhood. It was calculated that there were 20,000 cases in Liverpool today and deaths from pneumonia were reaching serious numbers.

One hospital had 60 deaths in nine days. Half of the members of the staff were affected.

IN NORTHERN IRELAND
Belfast, Northern Ireland, Jan. 24—(AP)—Influenza is rampant in northern Ireland.

Fifty percent of the school children in Belfast were on the sick list. It was estimated that there were more than 1,000 victims in the Derry district where schools were being closed.

May Have National Thanksgiving Day For King's Recovery

London, Jan. 24—(AP)—With King George continuing his slow but satisfactory progress, there was talk today over the probability of a national thanksgiving service at St. Paul's Cathedral. Such services were held twice during the reign of King Edward VII but nothing has been arranged yet officially for his son's recovery.

Bosnor, where the King is going to recuperate, has been making preparations for an influx of visitors expected to be attracted to the seaside resort by the monarch's presence.

Northwestern U. Is Given Loop Building

Chicago, Jan. 24—(AP)—F. C. Austin has given Northwestern University a $300,000 loop office building the income from which will provide scholarships for the training of business executives.

The income from the building, 700 C. Austin building on West Jackson Boulevard is estimated at $200,000 annually. Walter Dill Scott, president of Northwestern, characterized the gift as "one of the greatest the university ever has received."

WARDEN ISSUES APPEAL BEHALF OF THE QUAIL

Asks Farmers to Feed
Them During Present
Weather Condition

An appeal to feed coveys of quail throughout the county was issued today by State Game Warden Henry Keister of this city, who is making an investigation of conditions. He reports finding several large coveys of quail that are greatly in need of care. Warden Keister appealed to farmers to spread a mixture of corn and wheat in protected spaces about hedges or buildings that the birds may be saved from starvation.

Either corn or wheat is said to form a good feed for the birds at this time, but a mixture of the two is preferred. Many large flocks of the birds are in danger of being exterminated unless such relief is afforded, the warden stated. The farmers generally have protected large flocks from falling prey to the hunt during the quail hunting season and they are now urged to assist further by feeding the birds until they are able to forage for themselves.

The heavy coating of ice on top of the snow has almost completely covered all forage for the birds, and in the last few days, several flocks have been observed about farm buildings in search of food. Any kind of seed feed, scattered about a protected spot in hedges or near buildings where it is known the birds are in the habit of coming, will save hundreds of the birds from starvation. Warden Keister states he will start on another tour of investigation throughout the county as soon as the weather permits and roads are travelable, feeding a number of large flocks which he has had under observation.

U. S. AND CANADA EACH REFUSE MAN RIGHT TO ENTER

Former Canadian Soldier
Has Been in U. S. Jail
Four Months

Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 24—(AP)—Charles F. Knight lay in jail today, a deportable alien with no country to claim, even in deportation. He has been in jail four months and is waiting, while charity supports his wife and four children, for the United States and Canada to settle the controversy in which each seeks to place him on the other side of the international boundary.

Knight can produce evidence of citizenship in no country in the world. He is held on a charge of illegal entry and his wife faces a charge of moral turpitude. The "man without a country" came into the United States at Niagara Falls. Entry was made without visa, he admits because lack of funds barred him as a possible public charge, and because he was unable to produce a Canadian birth certificate. All he had was an affidavit made by his mother stating his age and the time of his enlistment in the Canadian army.

The case came to the attention of immigration authorities when truant officers here sought out his eldest daughter, Margaret, 15, who had left school intending to marry. City officials notified the department of immigration and Knight was placed under arrest. That was last September. He has been in jail since because the Canadian government refuses to take him back.

Knight has no idea what he will do if he is unable to prove that he is a Canadian, and government officials admit he cannot be held in jail indefinitely.

Chinese Communists Bring Death and Fire In Attack On Town

Shanghai, Jan. 24—(AP)—Chinese newspapers today said that many persons had been killed and wounded when communists attacked the town of Changyang on Monday evening. Changyang lies 30 miles south of Shanghai near Hanchow Bay.

A well organized band of 200 communists, carrying banners with a hammer and sickle device and armed with rifles and pistols, attacked the town.

The attackers singled out police stations and then fired the town, killing 30 inhabitants. Seventy inhabitants were wounded. A woman eighty years old was burned to death.

Later the band came into conflict with Chinese volunteer police from neighboring towns. There was fierce fighting for fifty minutes during which machine guns and bombs were used. Twenty communists were killed before the band was driven off.

INTERESTING DISPLAY

Pupils of the fourth grade of the Woodworth school have constructed a miniature Eskimo village which is on display in the reading rooms at the Dixon public library. Igloos, compasses, sleds, and other articles of the arctic region moulded from putty or carved from soap, eskimos in furs and pins make a very interesting display and speaks well for the handiwork of the children and their instructors also.

DWIGHT MORROW VISITS HOOVER, DISCUSS MEXICO

President-Elect Leaves
Tonight on Three Day
Fishing Trip

Miami Beach, Fla., Jan. 24—(AP)—Dwight W. Morrow is to return to Mexico City soon and remain as Ambassador for an indefinite period. This became known authoritatively today after he had conferred for two hours with President-elect Hoover.

This is in accord with the Ambassador's own desire and also with that of the next President, who has a high appreciation of the work the former internationally known banker has been rendering at Mexico City since his personal drafting by President Coolidge.

Time and again since Mr. Hoover's election, Mr. Morrow's name has appeared in the gossip as to the possible appointment for Secretary of State to succeed Frank G. Kellogg, who has arranged to retire from public life on March 4.

Work Unfinished.
However, the Ambassador to Mexico is understood to have taken the position that his work in that country was unfinished and a similar view of the situation has been credited to the President-elect by those who have conferred with him recently.

After his conference with the next Chief Executive at "Belle Isle" as the J. C. Penney estate is known, Mr. Morrow declined to make any statement. He will leave here tonight for New York, stopping at Washington possibly, and will return to Mexico City in about two weeks.

The Ambassador was Mr. Hoover's only caller during the forenoon. After his departure the President-elect prepared to leave by automobile for Key Largo where he will board the yacht "Amitee" for several days of fishing in the Florida keys and the edge of the Gulf Stream about thirty miles below Miami.

Belle Island, Miami, Fla., Jan. 24—(AP)—A conference with Dwight W. Morrow, Ambassador to Mexico, and departure late in the day for a three-day deep sea fishing trip among the keys along the southern extremity of the Florida peninsula, had been arranged for President-elect Hoover today.

While the visit, has been described chiefly as a courtesy call, there seemed little doubt that the Mexican Ambassador and Mr. Hoover would discuss relations with Mexico in detail. Mr. Hoover had hoped to visit Mexico City before his inauguration, but was unable to do so.

May Stay On Job
While Mr. Morrow has been urged for appointment as Secretary of Senate by Senator Walter E. Edge of New Jersey, the President-elect has indicated that he does not regard the cabinet post as important as the improvement in relations between the countries since the former banker undertook the delicate diplomatic mission below the Rio Grande.

The Ambassador has been credited with taking a like view of the situation, although there was a probability that if asked by Mr. Hoover to take a cabinet place he would feel called upon to do so.

More than before he began his personal mission to Latin America, the President-elect desired to leave nothing undone to improve relations with all the other American republics.

Unique Celebration For "Bobbie" Burns At Baptist Church

An unique celebration of the birthday of "Bobbie" Burns will be held at the Baptist church Friday evening at 7 o'clock to which the public is invited. In song and story under the caption "The Immortal Memory of Robert Burns, the Poetman Poet," with screen illustrations, the program will be of unusual interest and promises to all who attend an evening of instructive and pleasurable entertainment. Solos, duets, quartets—music in Scottish numbers—will be interspersed, supplementing the address by a sure-to-goodness Scotchman—Rev. W. W. Marshall. Following the program the audience will be treated to Scotch refreshments in the basement parlors of the church. This part of the evening's entertainment will be under the competent direction of Mrs. Marshall.

Goody! We're Now To Have Snappy Looking Pickles

Chicago, Jan. 24—(AP)—New models in pickles, following the general trend of beauty which pickle makers have noted in other branches of industry, are announced by the Pickle Packers' Association, now in annual session.

Five years of experimentation, said Prof. George E. Starr, of the University of Michigan, have culminated in producing a seed that will grow a shapely cucumber.

PUT ASHES ON ICE

A suggestion is made that if every citizen would sprinkle a few ashes on the slippery walks in front of his place of residence it would make walking safer and possibly prevent some serious falls.

U. I. STATION SILENT

Urbana, Ill., Jan. 24—(AP)—The University of Illinois radio station WILL, will be silent until February 6, the first day of the second semester.

CRUISER BILL TO STAY BEFORE SENATE FOR VOTE

Contested Measure is Not Likely to be Side-
Tracked Again

WHAT CONGRESS IS DOING
BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Senate continues with cruiser construction bill.

Calendar day in House. House Ways and Means committee takes up agricultural tariffs. Senate Immigration committee considers postponement of national origins clause of immigration act. Reed campaign funds committee has Vane case before it.

Washington, Jan. 24—(AP)—With tacit assurance that it will not be torpedoed by a filibuster, the cruiser bill was before the Senate today, indications being that it would not be put aside until it is voted upon.

There was no assurance, however, that the proposed measure would go through without having some of its provisions shot away. Opponents of the bill of whom Senator Norris of Nebraska is a leader, plan to attack the provision requiring a time limit of three years for construction and they also want the 15 cruisers provided for reduced to 10 or 5.

The bill is an administration measure but one request that the President has made, that the provision requiring a time limit of three years for the building of the ships be eliminated, is opposed by some of the strongest supporters of the bill, including Chairman Hale of the Senate Naval committee.

The House passed the bill at its last session. Chairman Britten of the House Naval Affairs committee, wants work to begin soon on the cruiser construction program.

Conference on Bill.
Carrying with it Senate approval and Senate amendments, the first deficiency bill today was on its way to conference.

Of the two principal amendments, one provided $24,000,000 for prohibition enforcement and the other would make public hearings by Treasury Department committee on tax refunds involving more than $10,000.

The fund to aid liquor law enforcement was voted Tuesday but the tax refund amendment was not approved until late yesterday, only a short time before the Senate roll call on the deficiency bill. It was a compromise from an amendment offered by Senator McKellar of Tennessee, which would have taken the refund cases from the Bureau of Internal Revenue and would have turned them over to the Board of Tax Appeals.

Present Methods of Taxation Attacked

Chicago, Jan. 24—(AP)—Present methods of taxation in Illinois were described as "antiquated and chaotic" in a report today by the Illinois Bankers Association's committee on taxation to the executive council opening a mid-year meeting.

The taxation committee, headed by C. W. Boyden, president of the Farmers State Bank, Sheffield, Ill., reported that its inquiry had emphasized anew the "inadequacy" of the state Constitution.

"It is as futile to attempt to raise the public funds by methods applicable nearly 60 years ago as it is to attempt to adjust our social and economic life to the standards of that period," the report said.

A special committee on agriculture reported that there has been some improvement in the farm situation during the past six months and that livestock prices have been maintained at a "fair level." Bankers were urged to influence farmers to give more attention to livestock raising and farm on a smaller acreage scale.

L. G. Gae, Lawrenceville, noted in a report that 1923 bank robbery and burglary losses were about $34,500, or ten per cent of the total 1924 loss.

Champaign Taxes on Lands Too High

Chicago, Jan. 24—(AP)—The State Tax Commission found in a formal decision today that farm land assessments in Champaign county are 10 per cent higher on a comparative basis than other assessments, and will certify the finding to the county Board of Review.

A ten per cent reduction in farm taxes will be ordered in accordance with the finding, State's Attorney Cline of Champaign county said. He was here before the commission in behalf of the county.

Under the settlement, two suits, one for injunction and one for mandamus, by the Farm Bureau, to prevent use of taxes collected in 1927, will be dismissed, Cline said. The suits were against County Treasurer Dale.

Former Dixon Man Died This Morning

Andrew Phalen today received a message announcing the death in Chicago this morning of his brother-in-law, Roger Kelley, who many years ago was a resident of Dixon. Funeral services will be held in Chicago Saturday morning and the body will be brought to Dixon for burial in Oakwood cemetery, arriving on the 12:50 train and being taken direct to the cemetery. Many of the older residents of this community will remember the deceased and will mourn his passing.

Terse Items of News Gathered in Dixon During Day

LICENSED TO WED

The following marriage licenses have been issued by County Clerk Fred G. Dimick: Ray Burns and Mrs. E. Amanda Janssen, both of Freeport; Albin H. Friberg of Sterling and Miss Helen Marie Crofts of Rock Falls.

SUIT AGAINST BANK

Attorneys George H. Fox of Walnut and H. A. Brooks of this city, filed a suit in the circuit court yesterday afternoon as representing Mrs. Kate D. Harck of Sterling, against the First National bank of Amboy. The case is one in which about a dozen attorneys of Lee and Whiteside counties have been interested and involves the income from an estate.

GREYHOUND LINES SOLD

The Pioneer Stages Company, Inc., has purchased all of the routes of the Greyhound Bus Lines west of Chicago. The Greyhound company operates lines between Chicago, Davenport, Cedar Rapids and Des Moines and between Rockford and Davenport, both lines running through Dixon. No changes in the routes are expected.

WARNS OF THIN ICE

Sam Watson, veteran ice man, who in the many years he put up ice was authority on river conditions and issued warnings through The Telegraph when the ice was unsafe for skating, today stated that parents should warn their children never to skate on the south channel between the cement factory and the dam, as the ice there is very likely to be unsafe.

OREGON MAN DISAPPEARED

Authorities of northern Illinois cities have been asked to aid in a search for Simon Greenblatt, aged 30, of Oregon who disappeared from that city Tuesday, leaving his wife and four children. It is believed he had gone to enlist in the navy, but investigation there disclosed the error of that belief.

COALMEN--PLUMBERS BUSY

The coal dealers and plumbers report a rushing business because of the ice and cold weather. The icy roads, however, have made coal deliveries difficult and yesterday some of the truckmen were unable to deliver all of the fuel that had been ordered.

The plumbers also were rushed on account of furnace coils being burned out in some cases, while some plumbing is reported to have been frozen up and some downspouts from gutters were filled with ice. The big plumbing rush, however, will come when the weather moderates, one plumber stated today.

HEAVY TRAFFIC SOUTH

G. Kemmerer, traveling passenger agent for the Illinois Central R. R. Co. was a Dixon visitor today. Mr. Kemmerer says that the travel over railroads to Florida is unprecedented this year and that the roads are having difficulty in accommodating the great numbers of northern people applying for transportation.

CROWDS WATCH BOOTLEGGERS IN SMUGGLING ACT

Frozen Detroit River and Lack of Officials
Boon to "Leggers"

Toronto, Ont., Jan. 24—(AP)—Opportunities afforded liquor smugglers by the frozen Detroit River were described by the Toronto Globe today as follows:

Six inches of river ice interrupted by less than 100 feet of open water, coupled with the fact that Sumner C. Sleeper, chief of the Detroit customs patrol, and a dozen of his men had thrown up their jobs, presented to the rum trafficking fraternity an opportunity which they have been denied for many months.

Taking advantage of the situation the smugglers spread up production and by using small automobiles, sleighs and even old fashioned toboggans succeeded in transporting an undetermined quantity of liquor and Canadian beer to Detroit and its environs. The operations were carried on boldly and in the sight of hundreds of spectators who lined the shores to watch the progress of the scores of caravans over the frozen waste.

There was no attempt at interference at any time so far as reported.

Higher-Ups in Peru

Booze Case Learned

Chicago, Jan. 24 (AP)—The identity of the higher-ups of the big La-

Salle county, Illinois, liquor syndicate, being investigated by the federal grand jury, has been ascertained by the authorities. It was reported that at the federal building.

Assistant United States District

Attorney Victor E. Laure, in charge of the case before the grand jury, was quoted as having declared that information which may involve several LaSalle county officials, has already been placed before the jury. It was also reported indictment of nearly a score of persons is contemplated by the grand jury.

Representatives of a coke, sugar and yeast company testified yesterday, it was said, to a large consumption of supplies used last year by three stills which were seized by a short time ago by federal prohibition agents. According to the testimony supposed to have been given,

these stills used 342,000 tons of coke,

56,000 pounds of yeast, and 1,920,000 pounds of sugar. Bills of lading were given in corroboration of the testimony.

The grand jury adjourned until Monday when it will hear more evidence on the case in connection with which a dozen persons are under arrest.

TARIFF SCHEDULE
ON PRODUCTS OF FARM CONSIDEREDHouse Committee Will Devote Three Days to Its HearingWashington, Jan. 24 (AP)—The familiar campaign cry for economic equality for agriculture was carried to the House Ways and Means Committee today as that body reached the farm schedule in its consideration of tariff revision.The committee, which at the outset of the hearings announced that in readjusting tariff rates particular attention would be given farm products, had listed 150 witnesses for appearing in the three days it set aside for the section of the Fordney-McCumber Act dealing with agriculture commodities.To hear all of these witnesses today, tomorrow and Monday, was regarded by committee members as an impossibility due to the number of items to be covered and the necessity for cross-examination. They had predicted, therefore, that Saturday, which originally was planned as an off day throughout the hearings, but has yet to be passed, would be devoted to business as usual.

Deluge of Requests

Several farm products already had been touched upon during the hearings on the first six schedules of the law, but committee members today looked for a deluge of requests for higher protection for nearly every farm product listed. They also had predicted some opposition would develop, chiefly from importers, but the majority of the witnesses were expected to combine for higher duties.Several House members were among the witnesses scheduled to appear, as well as growers, retail dealers, chain store and wholesale dealers, farm organization representatives, packers and scores of individuals interested in various phases of agriculture.Opening the drive of the farmers for a higher tariff, Representative Selvig, Republican, Minnesota, urged the committee to increase duties on livestock, dairy and poultry products, flaxseed, corn, potatoes and potato starch, rutabagas and clover seeds.

Some Proposed Rates

Declaring stabilization of the livestock industry would result from higher duties, B. F. Davis of Denver, representing the Colorado legislature, farm bureau and stock growers association, urged the following rates:Cattle for slaughter, 4 cents a pound; stockers and feeders, 3 cents;
fresh beef and veal, 8 cents; sheep and goats, 3 1/2 a head; fresh mutton, 5 cents; fresh lamb, 8 cents; swine, 3 cents; fresh pork, 5 cents; bacon and ham, 6 cents; lard and lard substitutes, 4 1/2 cents; extracts of meat 30 cents; and fresh meats not now specifically provided for, 40 per cent ad valorem.

THE GREATER THING—
(From the Arkansas Gazette)
However humble the place I may hold
Or lowly the trails I have trod,
There's a child who bases his faith
on me;
There's a dog who thinks I'm a god.

Lord, keep me worthy—Lord, keep me clean
And fearless and unguiled,
Lest I lose caste in the sight of a dog
And the wide, clear eyes of a child.
Lest there shall come in the years to be
The blight of a withering grief,
And a little dog mourn for a fallen god
And a child for his lost belief.

Mrs. Durkes to Read Paper Before Dixon Woman's Club Satur.

A meeting of the Dixon Woman's Club will be held Saturday afternoon, Jan. 26th, at the Christian church.
The program will be in charge of the Community Service Department and will begin promptly at 2:30.
Mrs. W. C. Durkes will read her own paper on the history of early Chicago, a subject on which Mrs. Durkes is well versed, as her family connections were among the earliest settlers of Chicago. The members of the committee feel that they are very fortunate in having Mrs. Durkes consent to read this paper to the club at this time. This paper has been read before the Peoria Avenue Read-

West—
Leads ♠ K East—
South (Declarer)—
♠ A K J 10
♥ A 6 5

♣ 9 8 6 3

The Bidding: South bids one spade. East passes. North bids two spades and all pass.

Deciding the Play: West leads King of hearts and Declarer takes trick with Ace of hearts, plays another heart and ruffs it in Dummy. Declarer then leads 3 of spades from Dummy. Should Declarer finesse?

The Error: Declarer plays the Jack of spades or 10 of spades.
The Correct Method: Declarer should not finesse because if the finesse fails, a capable opponent will immediately lead a spade and the losing heart will not be made. Without the finesse game is assured as you can ruff the remaining hearts.
The Principle: As a rule, do not finesse trumps when you hold losers that must be ruffed in Dummy.

ing club and a number of intimate friends of Mrs. Durkes. Everyone was so profuse in their praise of this very fine paper that the club feels especially favored.
Mrs. Willard Thompson will sing for the club audience at this time. The committee in charge feel that the Woman's club has been most fortunate in obtaining the services of these Dixon ladies for this splendid program.
Members of the club who have not brought their jams or jellies to be sent to the Wounded War Veterans, are asked to please take them to this meeting and to also bring the ball of carpet rags for these unfortunate men to work with.
The public is extended a cordial invitation to attend all meetings upon the payment of the small guest fee.

P. E. O. Celebrated Founders' Day

The members of Chapter AC, Illinois P. E. O., entertained their husbands Monday evening, Jan. 21st, honoring Founders Day.

Fifty-nine years ago in Mt. Pleasant, Ia., seven college girls met and founded the P. E. O. Sisterhood. These girls have now all passed away, but a beautiful memorial library stands in Mt. Pleasant, the gift of forty-two thousand P. E. O's.

An interesting feature of the dinner Monday evening was the fact that it was held at the Coffee Shop, the former home of two members of Chapter AC. These members were Mary Worsley, who died a few years ago, and Lillian Snyder, who lives in Norwich, Conn.

Many pleasant memories were recalled as the members looked around the spacious rooms.

On account of illness, the program which had been prepared was omitted and bridge was enjoyed.
Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Leland of Rockford and Mr. and Mrs. John Charters of Ashton, drove down, making forty-seven, who enjoyed the dinner.

The attractive decorations were in yellow and white. After dinner bridge was enjoyed, with Mrs. I. B. Altekruze winning the favor for high score for the ladies, and Mr. Altekruze winning the high score favor for the men. Mrs. A. L. Barlow won the favor for low score for the ladies and John Charters won the consolation favor for the gentlemen.
Mrs. A. A. Rowland, Mrs. Dwight Chapman, Mrs. Ray Miller and Mrs. F. X. Newcomer were the hostesses who gave their guests such a charming evening.

First Wedding Anniversary Observed

A very enjoyable party was given Tuesday evening in Ashton, in honor of the first wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Gumpman, this being named the cotton anniversary.

The evening was greatly enjoyed in playing cards and dancing, and afterward a delicious luncheon was served, after which the guests departed for their respective homes. The friends and relatives present to celebrate the anniversary were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ventler, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vaupel, Mr. and Mrs. Osain Semmler, Lawrence Schaneberg, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kersten and daughter Carol; the Messrs. Harold, Willis and Raymond Elch, Glenn Mehlhauser, Wilbur Meister, William Hallam, Bus and Don Danks; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Wagner, Mr. and Mrs. John Cordes and family; Mr. and Mrs. Enrich Weishaar, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Schafer, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Landau and son Laven, Mr. and Mrs. Christ Landau and daughter Evelyn Vivian of Lee Center; Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Hoover and family, Hacey Miles, Arthur Brucker, Miss Minnie Pitzer, Miss Lois Smith and Miss Helen Spratt of Franklin Grove.

CARD PARTY FOR JAN 30TH, POSTPONED—
The card party to have been given by the American Legion Auxiliary, Jan. 30th, at the home of Mrs. Roy Withers, has been postponed.

Surprise Farewell For Harold Smiley

At the Schoenholz home on Route 3, the Misses Finley and Schoenholz entertained a number of friends in honor of Harold Smiley, who is leaving for his home in Hannibal, Missouri soon.

After the guests had assembled Harold was asked to come down and spend the evening where he was surrounded by his many friends. The evening was spent in games and dancing. Miss Geraldine Graf and Harold Graf were awarded prizes. A delicious luncheon was served after which at a late hour everyone departed, hoping to see Harold again.

The guests were as follows: the Misses Ethel Moser, Gladys and Louise, Nixon, Eleanor Bartholomew, Mary Rosbrook, Evelyn and Geraldine Gray, Rosie Catalina, Agnes Smith and Glenn and Tyron Rosebrook, Harold Graf, Russell Kidd, Vernon Anderson, Eugene Brooks, Elliott Schoenholz and Harold Smiley.

European Prince Will Wed American Heiress

New York, Jan. 24—(AP)—Mrs. Allene Tew Burchard, wealthy widow of New York and Paris, is to marry Prince Henry XXXIII of Reuss, a member of Europe's oldest reigning houses.

Mrs. Burchard inherited an estate of $3,000,000 on the death of her husband, Anson Wood Burchard, vice chairman of the General Electric Company, in 1927. She is now in Egypt and has chartered a houseboat on which she will be hostess to the

Ideal Club Was Happily Entertained

On Wednesday afternoon fourteen members of the Ideal Club met at the home of Mrs. Robert Fulton.

After roll call, which was responded to with quotations, a short business session was held.
Mrs. Lola Porter furnished the paper of the afternoon, her subject being "The Choir Invisible", dealing with the growth of chain radio broadcasting which makes good music available in homes. Mrs. Porter also read two other short articles.

Sixth Annual Meeting Postponed Till April

The club women of Lee county have been notified that the sixth annual state convention of the Illinois Republican Club, Inc., has been postponed until April 25 and 26. In her letters to the leading club women, Mrs. George R. Rean, president, stated that the prevalence of the flu had greatly interfered with the lists of speakers and guests, and success of the convention.

Because of the inaugural exercises at the capitol in March, which will draw almost all of the party leaders there, it was deemed advisable for club to put off the convention until a late date as April. An even larger delegation of club women is expected in April and many more prominent speakers which will add to the interest and value of the convention.

THE FRONTIER LINGERS.

The men whose lives connected modern America with its colorful old western frontier are passing rapidly, and each time one goes the newspaper announcements of the fact are tinged with regret.

Wyatt Earp, who wore—and used—his two six-shooters in the days when Dodge City, Kas., was a center of picturesque, lawless turbulence, is the latest of the old-timers to pass on. A few days before he went Tex Rickard died—and Tex, for all that he was identified with the ultra-modern business of large-scale boxing, really belonged to the old frontier.

The old frontier seems very remote to us now, but it is still amazingly close in point of time. Though their number is diminishing fast, there are still men who can recall the mad, bad days of Deadwood, Goldfield, Tonopah and Dodge City, and the wild frenzy of the Klondike is still a living memory to a great many.

But we have moved away from the things those names symbolize faster than the calendar would indicate. Wyatt Earp, the Dodge City peace officer, was not an extremely old man when he died; yet Dodge City he knew is, in reality, as remote from modern America as the Boston of 1776. A whole cycle of history has been compressed into the last 50 years. The country has lived extremely fast. Processes of social evolution that ordinarily take centuries have been compressed into decades.

It is not without significance that the death of every man whose life was identified with those old frontier days is chronicled at considerable length. We have a more or less subconscious regret at the speed with which the old days are rushing back into the past. Life on the frontier was hard, wild and tumultuous, and it never fostered the softer graces; but at least it was straightforward and comparatively simple. It had none of the complexity and bewilderment that the decade since the World War has brought.

Probably we outgrew it faster than was good for us. Gearing to the tempo of a leisurely, obvious social era, we have been plopped down into the middle of an era that is hurried and complex. Unconsciously, we try to solve our present problems by standards that were devised for an earlier day. Men who grew up in a day of horse-and-buggy transportation are compelled to spend their maturity amid automobiles and airplanes.

This, as much as anything, is responsible for the turmoil and bewilderment that are so apparent in modern life. Things have come a little too fast for us. We read of the death of a man like Wyatt Earp with a pang because we feel, down deep, that we are somehow better fitted for his day than for our own.

The generation now growing up will see things differently. It will be used to the age of machinery from the cradle, and it will be able to cope with it without giving way to doubt and perplexity. Instead of having to adjust human lives to mechanics, it will be able to adjust mechanics to human life. For that reason we can look to the future with hope. We ourselves are in a bit of a muddle, but it's only natural. We're still too close to the frontier.

CRIMINALS AND LAWYERS.

A Boston pastor, discussing crime and criminals in a recent Sunday evening sermon, remarked that no lawyer should try to get an acquittal for a man he knows to be guilty.

To the ordinary layman that sounds like good sense. Yet the thing happens every day, in every city in the land. There never yet was a criminal with money who was unable to get a good lawyer.

Of course, the thing isn't quite as simple as it sounds. There are many cases where there are mitigating circumstances to a man's guilt, and such a man is entitled to have a lawyer plead his case for him. But it happens often enough that a man who richly deserves prison is set free because he had a lawyer whose ethics were governed by his fee. And that is one of the reasons for the prevailing distrust of our courts.

Dispatches report the finding of the tomb of one of Solomon's wives. Some day excavators are going to find a woman who was not Solomon's wife and that will be news.

Shoes are being made from old tires in France. The buyers of course face the hazard of skidding into telephone poles.

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KINICK

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The giant's table looked real fine. The dishes all were spread in line and all sat down to eat. "I'm very hungry," Clowdy cried. "I'm glad that there is plenty here because there is no cause for fear that I will not be satisfied when my share is inside."

The giant laughed, and loudly said, "Will someone kindly pass the bread I too, am very hungry. Also pass the jelly, please. Be careful as you're eating now. Wee tots spill things around somehow. It won't be very nice if you should spill things on your knees."

The Tiniest watched the giant eat. The way he gobbled was a treat. He took a great big loaf of bread and spread it end to end. One bite took nearly half of it. Said he, "I'll soon be feeling fit. I mustn't eat too much though. It will make it hard to bend."

Then Scouty wailed, "Oh, my, oh my, I'm sure I'd hate to have to try to take the big bites you do. I am sure they'd ne'er digest. We Tiniest must nibble slow, 'cause big bites always choke us so. However, we'll keep up with you. At least."

(The Tiniest get a good sleep in the next story.)

ANCIENT VINTAGE

Speyer, Germany—Wine made by the Romans more than 1600 years ago is on exhibit here. It was found in recent excavation of ruins which have been traced to the days of the Roman Empire. Because the Romans put honey in their wines, the fluid in these bottles is partially solidified.

COMPTON NEWS

Compton—Voters of District No. 128 voted for the erection of a new school building on the present site, with a bond of nearly eleven thousand dollars. The election was held at the village hall Tuesday of this week. 132 ballots were cast, with 113 voting for the erection of a school building, and 9 against. 110 voted for the bond issue, and 12 against bonding of the district.

Architects' plans of the new building were submitted by Bradley & Bradley of Rockford, and were on display at the voting place. Vacancy on the school board that has occurred by the recent death of Jesse Fox, will be filled by the annual election in the spring, at which time Mr. Fox's term would have expired. Board of directors have the bonding funds and the six thousand dollars from the insurance carried on the old school building for the erection of our new building. Dr. C. G. Pool, president of the board, and A. J. Bernardin, have showed their interest in the project so far, as they have made several visits along with Prof. D. C. Thompson to various places, to work out an idea to build with the limited funds.

The Woman's Club held a very interesting meeting at the home of Miss Caroline Miller last Saturday evening. Mrs. Dee D. Thompson, president, and Mrs. Ruth Ogilvie and Miss Caroline Miller were guests to the forty some members that attended. A play, entitled "How the Story Grew", was acted out and many compliments were given to the talent.

Roy Eggers, who underwent an operation at the local hospital, is improving nicely.

Miss Ethel Dikeman of Dixon was a guest of C. G. Archer at his home for over Sunday.

J. S. Archer left Wednesday for Springfield, where he will spend two or three days with friends.

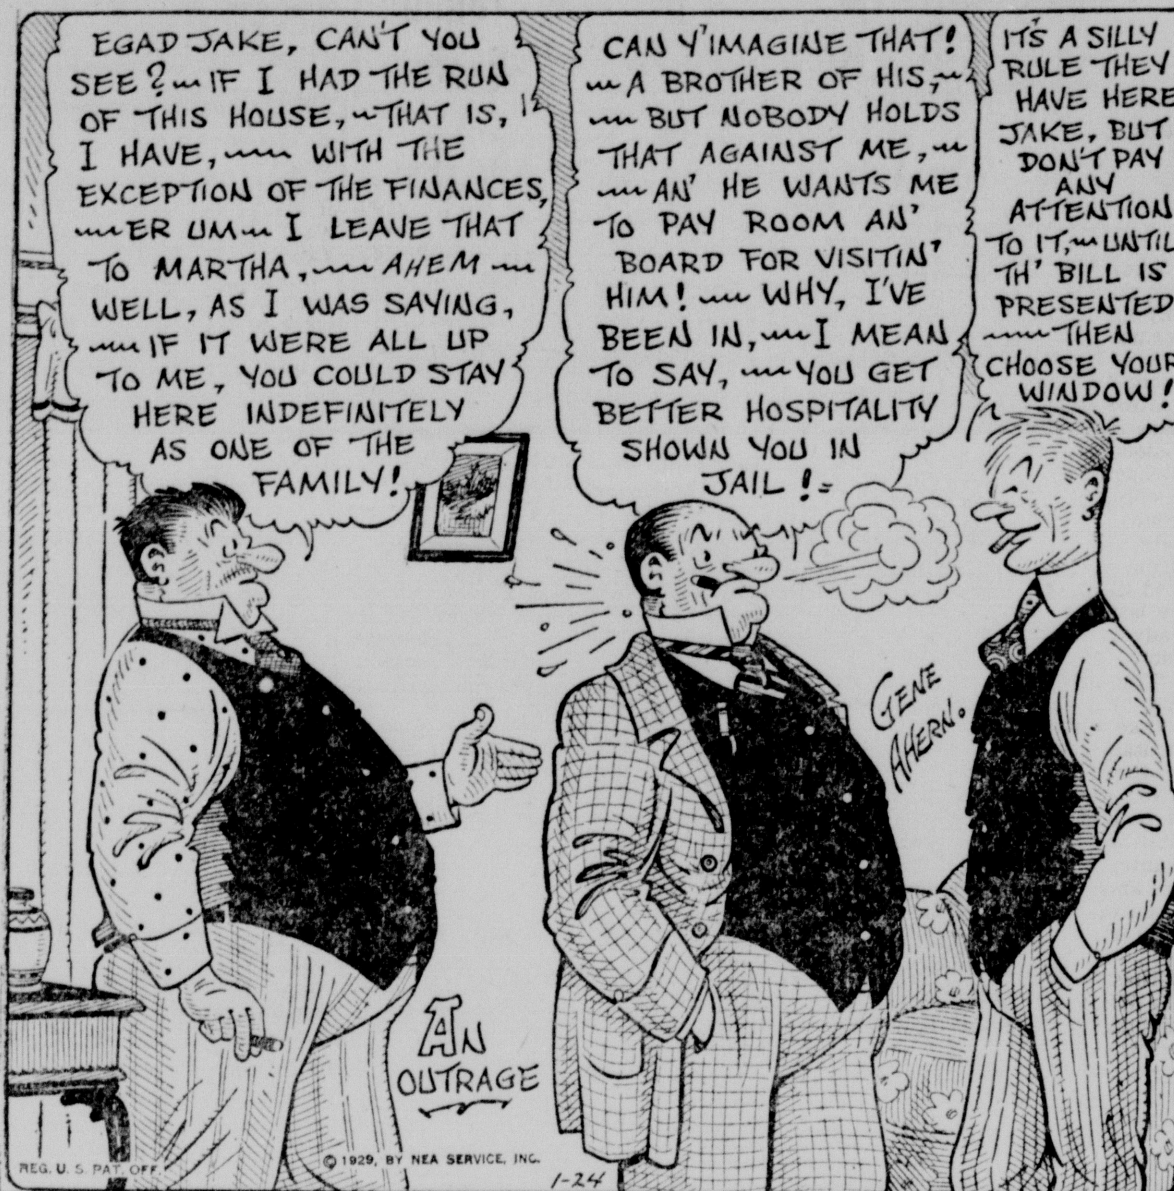

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Regenhardt are the proud parents of a baby boy born last Thursday evening at the local hospital. They have named the baby Ted R. Regenhardt.

Word has been received from Mrs. Hazel Sismore, of Mount Morris, the former Miss Hazel Rhodes, that a baby girl was born on January 19th, at their home in Mt. Morris. Miss Evelyn Saylor has returned to her teaching duties here after experiencing illness at her home in Alton, since she left here for the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Bradshaw, after spending the past month here with his mother, Mrs. Mae Bradshaw, from their home in Madison, Wis., left Friday for Florida, where they will spend the remainder of the winter months.

Compton Hospital

Ernest Ponto of West Brooklyn was removed to his home after undergoing an operation at the local hospital a week ago.

Mrs. S. Knutson, of Chicago is here caring for her father, Paul Krings, who has trouble with his foot.

Kenneth Danekas, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Danekas of near Ashton, was brought to the hospital suffering from a broken arm, caused when a wagon wheel passed over him while at work on his father's farm one day last week.

Miss Margaret Andrews, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Andrews of this city submitted to a tonsil operation at the hospital.

Clarence Ackland also had his tonsils removed.

Miss Faye Betterer is able to be up and around at her home following the accident that occurred New Year's Day, when the car in which she was riding collided with a street lamp post here in town.

The local hospital has three special nurses on duty this week.

COMPTON METHODIST CHURCH

The Sunday school session at 9:30. Morning worship at 10:30. No evening service.

The second number on the Lyceum course next Friday evening. This is the Juvenile Night with the children, postponed from last Friday evening. All children will be welcome and if accompanied by parent admission will be free. A fine evening of fellowship with the children and the Mother Goose Rhymes, splendidly illustrated.

WARREN HUTCHINSON, Minister.

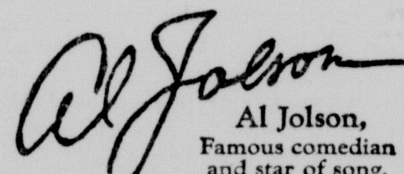

DOG CAUSES SUICIDE

Trenton, N. J.—A favorite hunting dog is held responsible here for the suicide of Frank Randio. Mary Randio, the widow, told police that Randio had brooded over the loss of his pet and would not be consoled. The dog had been missing a week, she said, prior to her husband's death, the result of a self-inflicted bullet wound.

Nervous diseases are much more prevalent among brain workers than among other sections of the community.

"I light a Lucky and go light on the sweets"

That's how I keep in good shape and always feel peppy."

Al Jolson, Famous comedian and star of song.

Something sensible. "Better to light a Lucky whenever you crave fattening sweets." It brings to men the health and vigor that come with avoiding overweight. To women it offers a slender, fashionable figure.

20,679 physicians have stated that Lucky Strike is less irritating to the throat than other cigarettes. Very likely this is due to toasting which removes impurities. This same process, toasting, improves and develops the flavor of the world's finest tobaccos. This means that there is a flavor in Luckies which is a delightful alternative for the things that make you fat. That's why "It's Toasted" is your assurance that there's real health in Luckies—they're good for you!

Keep fit—reach for a Lucky instead of a fattening sweet. That's what many men have been doing for years. They know the evidence of prominent athletes whose favorite cigarette is Lucky Strike and who say Luckies steady their nerves and do not impair their physical condition.

A reasonable proportion of sugar in the diet is recommended, but the authorities are overwhelming that too many fattening sweets are harmful and that too many such are eaten by the American people. So, for moderation's sake we say:—

"REACH FOR A LUCKY INSTEAD OF A SWEET."

"It's toasted"

No Throat Irritation—No Cough.

STATE MAY BUY "FERNE CLYFFE" AS SCENIC PARK

Beautiful Resort at Goreville May be Acquired Next

Goreville, Ill., Jan. 24.—(AP)—The next park acquired by the state possibly by action of the 56th general assembly—may be Ferne Clyffe scenic park near here, "the private park of a school teacher."

After teaching school for many years in Illinois, Texas, Arizona and Missouri, and after serving as superintendent of Johnson county, Illinois schools for eight years, Miss Emma Leberman bought Ferne Clyffe "as a place to rest, read and write and dream and plan." Ten years she has lived there in the heart of the Ozarks, the last two years alone. Now she is ready for the state to acquire the tract.

"The place is so beautiful," she said, "I should be glad for the state to take it over for a state park so that thousands of people could enjoy it for all time."

No one seems to know just why Ferne Clyffe was so spelt. It was established some thirty years ago as a country resort by men of Cairo, Marion and Vienna, and that was the name on the original deeds.

All visitors to Ferne Clyffe—some call it Rebmans park, now—are enthusiastic about its scenic beauty. Asa W. Foster, of the Goreville Commercial Club, writes this colorful description:

"In sheer beauty of layout the park is singular. Instead of a single spot and from this canyon run in every direction, no two alike, each lined with weird rock formations—cliffs of dizzy heights, shady gorges, natural cathedrals and pulpits, brooks and rills. Eight springs in the park test 99.9 per cent pure."

Tourists say they have never seen the equal of Hawk's cave—a great dome-like formation beneath which several thousand could be seated comfortably, protected from the elements. Acoustics are so perfect that an ordinary speaking voice can be heard from one end to the other.

It is beneath this natural shelter that Easter services, attended by hundreds from southern Illinois, are held each year. The romantically named principal places of interest were designated by Miss Rebmans: Little Cheyenne canyon, Samson's footprints—a huge print of a bare foot, caught in the forming rock—The old Swimming Hole, Rock Shoulder Falls, Apache Trail, Rock Shoulder Gorge, the Devil's Stairway, Balanced Rock, Canyon Diablo, Job's Coffin, Alligator Cave, Hawk's Cave, Elephant Head Rock and Castle Rock.

Ferne Clyffe Park is historically noted in that it marks the second camp of George Rogers Clark in his conquest of 1778. His camp is marked there, and last summer, in commemorating the one hundredth anniversary of the march, noted historians and educators stopped at Goreville in following Clark's trail.

It was suggested by these visitors that Hawk's cave with its almost perfect acoustics and its capacity to seat thousands should form a natural theatre for southern Illinois, during the great concert bands, singers and speakers of the world.

With Honce on His Trip Around State of Illinois

BY CHARLES HONCE

Associated Press News Editor
Jacksonville, Ill.—(AP)—Jacksonville was an important village when Chicago was an Indian trading post.

Thus begins the tale of this city, which can match historical incidents and personages with any in the United States and hold its own.

In the pageantry of more than a century have moved a steady procession of national figures—Abraham Lincoln, Ulysses S. Grant, Stephen A. Douglass, William Jennings Bryan—to mention only a few. Then too, there is an ever-lengthening list of movements in which Jacksonville can say "I was first."

Home of three state institutions, including the Illinois School for the Deaf, and the State School for the Blind, and of three colleges including Illinois college, which celebrates its centennial this year, Jacksonville's chief interests are more educational than industrial.

However, the city has its share of industries and its industrial life is being told in a survey by the Chamber of Commerce. Incidentally one of its industries is unique, the only one of its kind in the world—the manufacture of ferris wheels. The great Ferris wheel at the Columbian Exposition in 1893 providing the incentive and amusement devices have been turned out here steadily since. Some recent shipments went to India, Australia and South Africa.

But if you are interested more in the past Jacksonville has played in the history of the nation, an hour's tour of this city of 13,000 will give you more solid facts than you can easily digest, or if you prefer touring through the pages of a book, a volume edited by Lillian Island Danekin and published by the Chamber of Commerce will serve the same purpose.

The first fact to be noted is that Jacksonville has successfully lived through its first hundred years, and according to popular report, they are the hardest. On April 26, 1825, the survey of the original plat of Jacksonville was recorded and the city's history became a going concern.

Your tour of the city starts on a city street which once was the old state road. Over this road and into Jacksonville on July 4th, 1861, marched Col. Ulysses S. Grant with his raw regiment, the 21st Illinois infantry, little dreaming of the destiny that lay before him.

Nearby is the third Morgan county court house, built in 1868, and housing a tablet to Stephen A. Douglass, who came to Jacksonville in 1834 to become its first state's attorney and later the district representative in the legislature.

Look sharply or you will miss the modest home of the second Richard Yates—the third governor that Jacksonville gave to Illinois. Note also the former home of Porter Clay, brother of Henry Clay, and one of the first directors of what once was known as the "Deaf and Dumb Asylum." This institution was authorized by the legislature in 1838-39.

Here overlooking Duncan Park stands the home of Joseph Duncan, who was governor of Illinois in 1834-38. Its outside weather-boards are of solid black walnut, and within once were entertained President Martin Van Buren, Lincoln, Douglass and Daniel Webster. Today it houses the Jacksonville chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Webster delivered an oration here in 1837 under an elm tree.

A large granite boulder marks the site of the home of William Jennings Bryan, who was graduated from Illinois college in 1881, and married and practiced law here before moving to Lincoln, Neb. Mary Baird, who later became Mrs. Bryan, also was graduated here from Academy Hall, now the girl's dormitory of Illinois college.

Another historic home, now part of a hospital, is that of Illinois' Civil War governor, the first Richard Yates.

Sounding a more modern note, your tour will bring you to the birthplace of Charles Ray, the moving picture actor.

Jacksonville's institutions need a section of their own. First there is the Illinois school for the deaf, started with a legislative fund of $1,500. It now has some 500 students. It is one of the oldest of its kind in the country. The Jacksonville State Hospital for the Insane was created by the legislature in 1847, after Dorothea Dix, the philanthropist, had interested herself in the movement.

The Illinois Institution for the Education of the Blind, established in 1849, was the fourth to be opened in the United States. Two years before, a blind man, Samuel Bacon, came to Jacksonville to interest citizens in such a school. He was told to gather some pupils and show what could be done. An exhibition before the legislature brought an appropriation.

Edward Beecher, a brother of Henry Ward Beecher and of Harriet Beecher Stowe, was the first president of Illinois college, chartered in 1829, and the oldest west of the Alleghenies. William Herndon, Lincoln's biographer, was one of its students. Illinois Woman's College dates from 1847. It was once known as Female College. Routt College, a Catholic co-educational institution, completes a trio of educational institutions.

And now for a few of the movements which Jacksonville initiated. As State Superintendent of Public Instruction from 1856 to 1863 Newton Bateman organized the public school system of Illinois. Jonathan B. Turner was the father of the bill providing for land grant universities. Here was the birthplace of Ellen Hardin Walworth, one of the three founders of the national society of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Her father, General John J. Hardin, who fell in the Mexican War, obtained in 1839 the passage of the first local option liquor law in Illinois.

The first woman's club in the United States and the first club in the world to be officered by women was the Ladies Society for the promotion of Education of Females, organized in 1833. It still exists.

But the list grows long. Let's conclude by saying that here also were organized the first Methodist Theological school in America, and the first for manual training, medical school and teachers' organization in Illinois. And O yes, the Illinois Grand Lodge of Masons was formed here in 1839.

Jacksonville is one of the few cities in Illinois with both an evening and a morning newspaper. The Jacksonville Courier and Jacksonville Daily Journal are under one management and each is a member of The Associated Press. The publishers are J. W. Walton and William A. Fay.

Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Westlake of Sycamore were entertained at supper Saturday night at the D. R. Myard home.

Communist Editor Arrested in Canada

Toronto, Jan. 23.—(AP)—An editor of a Communist weekly was under arrest on a charge of disorderly conduct today for making an address in Yiddish in defiance of a police order that all public meetings be conducted in the English language.

Philip Halpern, editor of Kumpi, was arrested as he spoke from the aisle of a local theatre where Lenin memorial services were being held. Hoots and jeers followed the arrest and speakers criticized the police order.

The order, which was issued yesterday by Police Chief Draper, after a conference with the board of police commissioners, not only requires that public meetings be held in the English language but prohibits "disorderly or seditious reflections" on our form of government, the King or any constituted authority.

After Halpern's arrest disorder broke out at the meeting.

CHICAGO SAFETY COUNCIL BACKS DRIVER LICENSE

Believes Such a Law Would Cut Down Auto Mishaps

Springfield, Ill. Jan. 24—(AP)—Appalled by the tremendous list of persons killed by automobiles last year, the Chicago Safety Council has announced that it will support the drivers' license bill introduced in the state Senate by Senator James Barbour of Chicago.

It was the unanimous opinion of the board of directors of the Chicago organization at its last meeting, that passage of the law would definitely advance the council's aims and purposes and was worthy of support.

"It is clear to us that such a law," said Paul Van Cleaf, chairman, "properly enforced, would result in a reduction of motor vehicle accidents. Of even greater importance is the fact that so much of this reduction would take place in a field we now find hard to cover, that is, accidents in which the outstanding cause is the simple fact that the driver should never have been operating a motor vehicle."

"While we are not in a position to say formally, without an actual check-up that every one of our members, more than 100 commercial and industrial concerns, favor this bill, we are confident that the purpose and so we do not hesitate to state our position."

More than 100,000 workers are represented by member companies of the Chicago Safety Council. The council has devoted three of its activities during the past year exclusively to the reduction of motor vehicle accidents. It has sponsored a special contest designed to educate school children and drivers; systematically called the attention of traffic law violators to the section of the traffic code they disregarded and which might have resulted in a fatality; conducted a special six months drivers safety contest, as part of its continuous motor vehicle accident reporting contest.

Briefly the bill provides for the licensing of all drivers and the suspension and revocation of licenses for certain specified offenders.

A number from here motored to Sterling Monday morning and attended the funeral of Mrs. Timothy O'Rourke, whose remains arrived Sunday afternoon from Chicago and was taken to the home of her sister, Mrs. James Bradley, 609 Avenue D. Interment was made in Calvary cemetery.

Mrs. O'Rourke died in Chicago on Thursday morning after a brief illness. Her maiden name was Margaret Long and she was born and reared here, and lived here until 25 years ago, when she went to Chicago, where she was the owner of a delicatessen store on the north side, it being conducted by a son, Timothy O'Rourke. She leaves to mourn her passing five children—Mrs. John McInerney, James P. O'Rourke, Mrs. Mathew Warren, Timothy O'Rourke and Miss Josephine O'Rourke of Chicago, besides two sisters and one brother, Mrs. Ellen M. O'Rourke of Des Moines, Ia.; Mrs. James Bradley of Sterling, and John Long of Prairieville besides a host of friends.

Mrs. Anna Swab was a caller in Sterling Saturday.

Miss Geraldine Perkins was a Saturday caller in Dixon.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Harney and son of Walnut, and Miss Mabel Hermes motored to Dixon on business Monday forenoon.

Mrs. J. J. Blackburn of Walton and Mrs. Lloyd Considine and son

Harold were visitors in Amboy on Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Lehman of Dixon spent Sunday here at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed O'Brien.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

We are indebted to someone for a most elaborate consideration of the sensible maxim, "There is no use in crying for spilt milk."

The practice of using milk as an article of diet is by no means a novelty. Sheeps and goats milk and cows and camels milk have yielded the nutritious liquid to the cooing band of man from the earliest ages. In ancient times land which was "flowing with milk and honey," that being the highest possible praise. And who can say when "the milk of human kindness" of which such frequent mention is made, first took its place among grateful cordials? Nor are the moderns the first sufferers from such accidents as that implied in the text.

Doublets, antediluvian cows were as sensitive and freakish as their post diluvian descendants, and frequently kicked over the "operatives" and their frothy treasure. To milk one of those wild heifers must have required no small degree of skill and courage. But there were giants in those days, and they may have kept mastodons instead of cows. In that case, "milk-maids" must have commanded high wages.

Milk has been spilled in all ages of the world. The stream of time is very much discolored by it. Nor does the experience of the past furnish us with the means of putting a stop to this waste. Almost six thousand years have rolled away, since this evil first arose; but it still "obtains," as extensively as ever. And the worst of it is that mankind seems utterly careless and indifferent upon the subject. Flies may bite, tails whisk, feet kick, pails upset, and the creamy fluid be splashed about, and flow in torrents to the earth; yet men remain unmoved; no one thinks of making a stir in the matter.

Bring Name Of Mrs. Hammonds Into The Oklahoma Charges

Oklahoma City, Jan. 23—(AP)—Investigations involving the name of Mrs. O. O. Hammonds, confidential secretary to Henry S. Johnston, suspected Governor; the state highway department; other branches of state government, and elusive rumors regarding $100,000 said to have played a part in the abrupt dispersal, last winter, of attempted impeachment activities, today were rivals for the basis of additional impeachment charges against Governor Johnston by the house of representatives as the voting of a sixth charge, shortly before adjournment late yesterday.

For the first time in 30 years the Bethany Horse Thief Detective Society heard the call of duty yesterday, when Ed Maher, farmer, missed a work horse, saddle and bridle.

Maher broadcast the almost forgotten call and these who didn't think it a joke jumped into flippers and gave chase. In the meantime the horse, released by the thief, returned.

The incident may stay the move started years ago to change the name of the society to Chicken Thief Detective or Auto Thief Detective Society.

Two Trainmen Met Death on I. C. Ry.
Mounds, Ill., Jan. 23—(AP)—Two trainmen were killed, two were injured and an undetermined number of passengers suffered injuries last night when the Floridian, fast Illinois Central passenger train from Chicago to Florida, crashed into a freight train one mile south of Mounds.

The accident occurred shortly before 11 p. m. The engine tender and first freight car of the freight train had moved onto the main tracks when the Floridian struck it. The

Peru Police Face U. S. Grand Jurors

Chicago, Jan. 23—(AP)—Members of the Peru, Ill., police department were scheduled to appear before the federal grand jury this afternoon in an investigation of LaSalle county liquor conditions being conducted by assistant District Attorney Victor LaRue.

The District Attorney's office refused today to reveal the identity of the policemen, but it was reported they were to testify regarding a huge still confiscated by prohibition agents two weeks ago. Six men were arrested at the still, which, according to LaRue, operated in the residential section of Peru for three years.

The dry agents who made the raid appeared before the jury this morning.

Chicago Suicide From Rock Falls

E. C. Underwood, who committed suicide in Chicago Friday, leaving a note in which he listed "Esther Underwood, Dixon, Ill." as one of his relatives, was a former Rock Falls man, being a son of the late Darius Underwood, prominent farmer, who lived on a farm on the Dixon road, east of Rock Falls. His body was taken to Rock Falls Tuesday afternoon, where burial will be made beside the graves of his father and mother.

LADDIE BOY WHO WAS FIRST DOG OF LAND, DIED

President Harding's Airedale Died of Old Age

Newtonville, Mass., Jan. 23—(AP)—Laddie Boy, the magnificent airedale which as the "first dog of the land" once roamed at will about the White House grounds, is dead at the home here of Harry L. Barker, secret service man to whose care he was entrusted seven years ago at the death of his master, President Harding.

The end came yesterday while the dog, ailing for many months of old age, rested his head on the arms of Mrs. Barker who had nursed him through a serious illness only a short time ago.

Laddie Boy was a half-brother to President Coolidge's dog, Laddie Buck. He came to the White House on March 4, 1921, a gift to President Harding from Charles W. Quetsche, an Ohio admirer.

On the death of the President, Mrs. Harding gave the dog to Barker in return for Barker's kindness and a remembrance of the President.

FOUR CHAMPIONS MUST FIGHT FOR TITLES AT ONCE

National Boxing Association Issues Orders to Title Holders

Rockford, Ill., Jan. 24—(AP)—Sammy Mandell is ready at any time to defend his lightweight title, but he would like to know from Paul Prehn, president of the National Boxing Association, just who he is supposed to defend it against, and who will take care of the guarantees.

Prehn yesterday announced that titles of four champions, including Mandell, would be declared forfeited in the 27 states, members of the N. B. A. if the men did not defend them within 60 days.

"Does Prehn want to take the responsibility of finding somebody for me to fight?" inquired Mandell.

"Will he put up the guarantee?" Other champions named in the association's ordered were Tommy Loughran, Light Heavyweight; Mickey Walker, Middleweight; and Joe Dundee, Welterweight.

ASSOCIATION'S ORDER

(Telegraph Special Service.) Chicago, Jan. 23.—Four boxing champions must defend their titles within the next sixty days or surrender them, it was announced today by Paul Prehn, president of the National Boxing Association.

Tommy Loughran, light-heavyweight champion; Mickey Walker, middleweight; Joe Dundee, welter and Sammy Mandell lightweight have been notified that they must engage in a title bout before March 21 or "cease to be recognized as the legitimate champion of the class."

Though none of the four has defended his title within the last six months period, the time of idleness allowed a champion between title bouts under the N. B. A. rules, sixty more days have been allowed "due to the fact that there has been a change in the officials of the National Boxing Association."

The letter addressed to the four champions by President Prehn is as follows:

"The official records show that you have not defended your title within a period of the last six months in accordance with the rules of the National Boxing Association."

"As President of this Association I desire to co-operate in every way with the managers of champions as well as with the boxer himself, but in so doing expect the same treatment and co-operation from managers and boxers."

"The question of defending your title has been discussed and a mail vote taken and it is the opinion of a majority of all boxing commissions who belong to the National Boxing Association that all champions defend their titles at least once every six months."

"Due to the fact there has been a change in the officials of the National Convention held in October bought this change at which time the undersigned was elected as President. I have secured from members of the Association the right to allow you a period of sixty days from this date in which to prepare yourself and to get a match in defense of your title with a logical contender. Should you fail to do this except for some valid reason there will be no alternative left but to order your suspension, which will result in the National Boxing Association ceasing to recognize you as the legitimate champion in your class."

"I sincerely hope you will not cause this to be done."

"This notice is to be considered the final notice of this Association and your time for defense of your title will expire on March 21, 1929."

Indiana May Join
Formation of a state boxing association in Indiana and its entrance into the National Boxing Association, is under consideration according to Paul Prehn, president of the National Association. Major L. A. Greene, of Fort Benjamin Harrison and others interested in the sports, will come to Chicago Friday to confer with Prehn. Under this plan, city commissions, appointed by the mayor or other city or county officials, will be banded together in a state association. The

Guard Against "Flu" With Musterole

Influenza, Grippe and Pneumonia usually start with a cold. The moment you get those warning aches rub on good old Musterole.

Musterole relieves the congestion and stimulates circulation. It has all the good qualities of the old-fashioned mustard plaster without the blister. First you feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief. Have Musterole handy for emergency use. It may prevent serious illness.

FARM BUREAU'S LEAGUE OFFICERS MEET NEXT WEEK

Rules and Practices to be Discussed at Annual Meeting

Danville, Ill., Jan. 24—(AP)—Baseball officials of the state farm bureau league will assemble here Tuesday, Jan. 29, for their fifth annual convention. Delegates, players, team managers and the farm advisers from 22 counties are expected.

Warm discussion regarding rules, practices, and eligibility questions has been the order at previous meetings of the organization. This year promises to be no exception. Two schools of thought have developed among the league leaders and players over the question of whom shall be eligible to play. Under the present by-laws, players are restricted to Farm Bureau members and members of their immediate families whose principal occupation is farming. Under this rule nearly all Farm Bureau members living in town have been barred. As a result several teams have lost valuable players. One of two teams were forced out of the running completely because they could not muster enough farm boys to round out a good nine.

One team manager sizes up the situation like this: "A more lenient eligibility rule is the main objective, as I see it, to better Farm Bureau baseball. A wider eligibility rule will remedy many of our troubles for it will permit more counties to organize teams which will make a more complete playing schedule to last the entire season. This will tend to create more interest in Farm Bureau baseball."

"As to the leniency of the rule why not make any player who signs a three-year contract and pays his own money, and any player who is a member of the Farm Bureau member's family regardless of occupation, eligible to play? I am strictly opposed to anyone having his membership fee paid or receiving money for playing."

Following the business session Coach Carl Lundgren of the University of Illinois will speak on the subject: "What It Takes To Make a Good Baseball Team."

Sharkey, Christner are Both Confident

New York, Jan. 24—(AP)—There was an abundance of confidence today at the training quarters of Jack Sharkey of Boston and K. O. Christner, graduate of the Akron rubber plants, who meet in a ten-round clash in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

"The loquacious gob can see nothing in the scrap but a good warm-up for his battle with Young Stribling at Miami Beach, while the 34-year-old Ontario, who sprang into prominence by punching Knute Hansen out of the heavyweight picture a couple of months ago, has told the world he expects to tag Sharkey with the same wallop he used on the melancholy Dane."

Realizing that he must make a better than ordinary showing tomorrow if the Stribling fight is to meet with any financial success, Sharkey says he will end the affair in short order.

Mandell Signs to Meet Ben McArthur

(Telegraph Special Service.) Rockford, Jan. 24—Sammy Mandell, of Rockford, lightweight boxing champion of the world, will meet Benny McArthur, of Saginaw, Mich., at Shrine temple, Rockford, Saturday night, January 26, in a three-round benefit boxing match.

Mandell returned Wednesday in good condition following his 10-round victory at Indianapolis Tuesday over Jack Gillespie of Detroit. It was the champion's first ring appearance since he suffered a fractured collar bone last September.

Two other professional bouts will be included in the benefit card Saturday. The show will be officially sanctioned by the Illinois Boxing Commission.

PHILLIES TO PUT EXCELLENT TEAM IN SEASON'S RACE

Prospects are Better Than They Have Been in Many Years

BY PAUL A. WEADON
(Associated Press Staff Writer.)

Philadelphia, Jan. 24—(AP)—With new and sparkling material and most of the weak gaps apparently plugged up, the Phillies look toward the 1929 National League pennant race through rose-tinted glasses.

Not since the championship days of 1915 and 1916 have they boasted of such excellent prospects or felt so hopeful over an approaching baseball season.

New blood has been brought into nearly every position, the pitching staff has been strengthened and the Phillies have a great young shortstop in Tommy Thevenow, for whom they are reported to have given three players and $50,000 in cash. One of Manager Burt Shotton's most recent moves was to cast aside two veterans, Jimmy Ring, pitcher, who was given his unconditional release, and John Schulte, who was sold to Columbus of the American Association.

Don Hurst, who hit 18 home runs last season, will be on first base and Presco Thompson on second with Thevenow at shortstop. Pinky Whitney, who batted over .300 last year, will be at third to round out a well-balanced infield.

The outfield will be composed of Lefty O'Doul, obtained from the New York Giants; Danny Southern, a youngster; Homer Peel, from Houston, Texas, and Chuck Klein, with Cy Williams, home run slugger, as the leading reservists.

Lerian, Davis and Susce will be in charge of the catching department. Susce is a youngster from the University of Pittsburgh.

KEEPING HOUSE IN WHITE HOUSE WILL BE BIG JOB

Grocery Bill Amounts to About $2,500 Each Month: 50 Helpers

Editors Note: This is the first of three stories by Allene Sumner, NEA Service Writer, on some of the intimate problems that will confront Mrs. Herbert Hoover as the new First Lady of the Land. The second story will describe the interior of Mrs. Hoover's new home and the third will tell of her duties as a hostess.

By ALLENE SUMNER
NEA Service Writer

Washington—Being the wife of the President of the United States means much more of course, than that as nation's First Lady—one is mistress of the most important house in the country, the White House.

Naturally, then, Mrs. Herbert Hoover is interested in knowing just what this White House housekeeping job means—how many servants there are, how much linen and silver and china, what to expect in the way of grocery bills, who pays for what, and all the questions which any woman taking charge of a new establishment would want answered.

Introduced to New Home
For years it has been the custom for the outgoing First Lady to invite the incoming First Lady to tea, a very private tea, for the express purpose of introducing the incoming First Lady to her new establishment.

No publicity has been given such an engagement between Mrs. Hoover and Mrs. Coolidge as yet, but it is rather probable that one occurred before the Hoover's departure to Florida.

There is a special drama in this social custom this time. Mrs. Coolidge, packing for her moving day to a big frame house in Northampton, Mass., which might, in a pinch, sell for $10,000 or rent for $50 a month, is turning over the White House of which she has been mistress for more than five years. And the value of its buildings and grounds has been estimated as high as $25,000,000.

Who Pays the Bills?
Just what does it mean to become mistress of the White House? What are the housekeeping problems? Who pays which bills? Where does the family laundry go? Who washes that Brussels lace buffet scarf which can't be put in with the general wash? If the president insists on strawberries out of the season for breakfast, can he have them? Who pays for them?

Mrs. Hoover probably knows that the grocery bill must be paid out of the Hoover pocketbook. She may be interested in learning, however, that the official dinner may cost as much as $1,000. It may answer that question which all Washington asked at the time of Queen Marie's visit—"Why did the White House serve roast beef?"

The outgoing First Lady probably gave the incoming First Lady some such facts as these about her new home.

She will take charge of over 50 servants. They are under the direction of the housekeeper, a former worker in the personnel department of the Stearns store in Boston, and fired on the personal assurance of Coolidge's friend Stearns himself, that she would not quit and write her memoirs as White House housekeeper as her predecessor, Mrs. Elizabeth Jaffray, did.

It's an open secret that the president didn't like Mrs. Jaffray's published story about his counting the number of hams ordered for a certain luncheon.

Lists of Servants

Mrs. Coolidge doubtless told Mrs. Hoover that her household includes the housekeeper, three cooks, one kitchen helper, three laundresses, two housemaids, one head mechanic, one electrician, a day and night furnace man, four footmen, a parlor maid, a head butler, a second man, a pantry man, one lady's maid, several chambermaids, one houseman, one house cleaner, one special valet, one servant, floor maid, two head ushers, two gardeners, and four chauffeurs and a few potato peelers and window wipers.

She probably told her that Wilkins, the colored houseman, has been in the White House service for 31 years; that Straus, the furnace man, has kept the White House warm for 30 winters; that "Ike" Hoover, the chief usher, who takes all the visiting cards and shows callers through the house, is one of the veterans.

Mrs. Hoover may not be especially interested in the servants' wages for she won't pay them. But the grand total runs around $35,000 a year. Mrs. Hoover will become mistress of a house whose running expenses—not paid by the Hoovers—will be something like this:

It costs about $50,000 a year to keep it clean.

The greenhouses mean about $10,000 a year.

The garden bill for planting, cutting the 10-acre lawn, tending to bulbs, etc., is another $10,000.

The light bill runs between $8500 and $9000.

It costs about $85,000 a year to guard the president and his establishment.

Laundry Cost Is Split
Mrs. Hoover may be even more interested in these facts:

That, while Uncle Sam agrees to do the general White House laundry, personal laundry is up to the president and his family who are supposed to devise some scheme for keeping tab on their personal wash that goes in with the general tablecloths and towels.

That, while Uncle Sam pays the servants' wages, he does not expect to pay them for personal entertaining, and it is assumed that when friends or relatives come to stay a few weeks, the servant cost will be pro-rated some way.

That the president and his wife are supposed to pay for the care of their "personal property" as distinguished from government property.

That the president is supposed to pay for his own private cook, his own stablemen, if any, his own valet, his personal laundress, and for his wife's maid, if any.

Groceries $2500 Monthly
The new First Lady probably will find that very economical management can keep the White House gro-every bill, which the Hoovers will have to pay, to about $2500 a month. But that will take care.

She will have enough dishes to serve 100 people at formal dinners. Her new home is officially a 25-room mansion—but if you begin counting closets and halls and ante-rooms, it's more like 50.

It has electric kitchen equipment—bread cutter, mixer, electric dish washer, stoves, a complete laundry.

A new electric elevator and seven new bathrooms and showers were installed while the Coolidges were in Wisconsin last year.

There is also an electric refrigeration system and the ice cream freezer and the bread mixer.

In all probability Mrs. Hoover won't find it an easy job. Just try running a $25,000,000 house with more than 50 servants.

Next: World you like to know what the White House is like inside—not the part the usual visitor sees, but the private living quarters of the President's family where the public never goes—the President's "den"—the bedroom where Woodrow Wilson lay ill so long? Then come with Miss Sumner in her next story.
